Nexxpost Acquires the Mailing Division of Excel Business Systems

Seattle, Washington - June 7, 2010 - Nexxpost, LLC, one of the nation's largest independent mailing and imaging systems companies announced today it has acquired the mailing division of Excel Business Systems, Inc. in Tacoma, Washington. This acquisition extends Nexxpost's coverage of Hasler mailing and shipping products into southwestern Washington.

"This acquisition fits nicely into our plan to offer superior mailing and shipping solutions to all businesses in the state of Washington. Furthermore, the complexity of today's mailing and shipping systems requires a greater investment than ever before. Expanding our customer base geographically allows Nexxpost to further leverage the investments we've made in state of the art service and sales systems and staff," said Howard Gray, President of Nexxpost. "Nexxpost has built a solid reputation by emphasizing the importance of "the personal touch", we are excited to now extend this same dedication to the customers of Excel and all businesses in Tacoma and the surrounding areas."

With this acquisition the mailing products division of Excel Business Systems, Inc. becomes wholly owned by Nexxpost LLC. All current service agreements will be assumed by Nexxpost and Nexxpost will provide all sales and service support to these customers going forward.
